

CHAMPIONS

PROGRAMME

There is one simple way you and your company can make a massive difference to those within our sector who need a helping hand.

Become an EIC Champion

We need you to champion this initiative to your staff and amongst your colleagues. The size of your organisation doesn't matter, it is the collective effort of you and your fellow colleagues which makes a difference to our sector.

3 ways to be a Champion

The Electrical Industries Charity provide a free and confidential service to those who need a helping hand. The EIC's help has no criteria, you just have to have worked within the electrical/energy industry for more than three months.

The EIC rely on donations from the industry and this is where you come in. We need you to sign up to our new EIC initiative and become an EIC Champion.

Partner with EIC and become a charity champion. There are so many ways you can champion your industries charity. We have 3 key campaigns you can champion with your staff and colleagues immediately.

1 Stand down hour

Donate 1 hour of your salary to make a difference

#charitystanddownhour

2 EIC Day

Donate £10 to be the champions of this century and help us reach our fundraising target of £100,000

#EICDay100K

3 Workplace Lottery

We need your help today to champion your workplace to sign up to our powerLottery.

1. Stand Down Hour

The Charity Stand Down Hour begins with you! Donate one hour of your salary to the Electrical Industries Charity and make a change today.

The Charity Stand Down Hour is a simple way you can make a massive difference. All you need to do is enrol your company and encourage your staff and colleagues to donate just one hour's salary to the EIC.

Your hour can provide counselling sessions, modified wheelchairs, hospital transportation or support someone's mortgage while they get back on their feet. Most importantly, your Charity Stand Down Hour will help the EIC to continue to support the electrical and energy sector.

2. EIC Day

EIC day is coming on the 10th September and we are celebrating the first 10 champions of our industry, who over 100 years ago, each put £10 on a table to form the charity you see today.

Their £10 has helped your industry for over a century and today the EIC help over 10,000 people who need assistance.

We need you to be the champions of this century and help us reach our fundraising target of £100,000. We're asking for just £10 from each of our electrical industry colleagues to keep the EIC fighting in your corner.

3. powerLottery

Play to win and help other others in your industry through your monthly pay.

Did you know that your company has joined up to our workplace lottery?

powerLottery is EIC's number one fundraising stream that allows EIC not only to show support to those who need assistance in the most challenging times of their lives but also to give hope, independence and life-changing solutions

You could win up to £1,000 or £500 a month with 40 cash prizes plus a mega prize draw of £10,000 to be won twice a year in June and December.

Be a champion and sign up to the powerlottery and pay through your payroll system. To sign up and play, simply go to our EIC website and register through the portal.

You too have the power to make a difference.

A man and a woman are shown from the chest up, celebrating. The man on the left is wearing sunglasses and a light blue shirt, with his mouth open in a shout and his hands raised. The woman on the right is also wearing sunglasses and a white top, with her mouth wide open and her arms raised. Several banknotes are falling around them, suggesting a large win. The background is a solid pink color.
